First Hit

LYNN, May 12.—Lynn won a 10-inning game from Lowell yesterday by the score of 2 to 1, the winning run being scored through the failure of Harris, Lowell's third baseman, to hold Locke's throw to head off Miller's attempted steal from second, allowing Miller to score. Each team had scored one earned run at the end of the fourth, but effective work by both pitchers prevented run getting until the tenth. The score:

DIAMOND NOTES

President Winn says he has secured George Riving of the Providence Eastern league team.

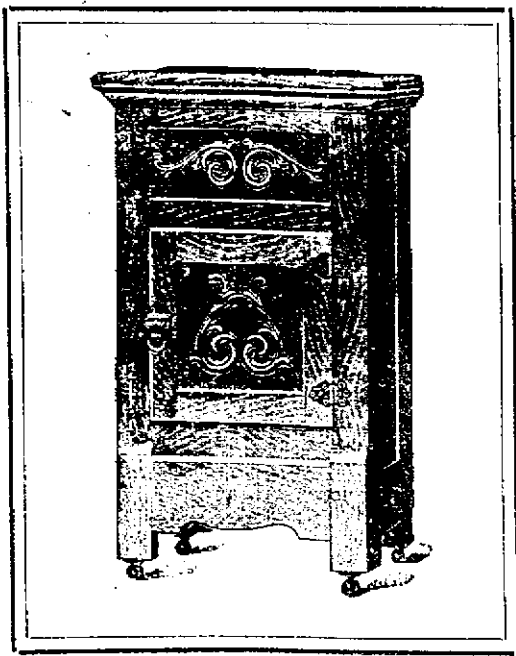

A morning paper says: The effect of Duggan's suspension will be watched with interest. Duggan allows that he has been doing his best, but if that is true, he has done back a lot since last season, and should not be retained.

Duff allows that he's doing his best.

likewise Greenwell, Remington, Warner and the rest who have sore arms. If Duggan is suspended why not suspend the others and if Duggan has gone back and should not be retained why not fire all the others who have gone back also if Duggan has?

"Why don't you knock that team!" exclaim the fans in numbers to the writer. What's the use of knocking? It's encouragement that's needed and the players aren't getting it either from the management or the fans. Nearly every place in the team is known as a good ball player yet all have started badly and the management instead of encouraging them suspends one man before the first pay day has come around and sends another in to pitch knowing that his arm was bad, while a pitcher with a good arm, ready and willing to work is kept on the bench until the game has been lost. Another player is confined to his lodging house with a bad knee, and although barely able to walk, is asked by the management to put on a uniform and try to play. Unless the management of any team uses the players right, all the suspensions and fines that may be imposed will not make the players deliver the goods while releases will do no good because there's a sort of free-masonry among ball players and once a manager becomes "knocked" he might as well put the job in somebody's else name.

It is expected that Lawrence will try out Walter Foys today.

Catcher Price, recently released by Lowell, received a long looked for letter from home, yesterday and immediately took a train with Bloomsburg, Pa. as his destination. He has a little heart to heart talk prepared for Jack Wolverton, manager of the Williamsport team, who painted a rosy picture of Lowell and its opportunities to him.

It seems awfully quiet without Rhoddy in the lineup.

"Hi Hi" Dickson who has probably dropped as many quarters at the box office as any man in Lowell or Tewksbury has solemnly declared that they won't get "Uppence" from him until the team wins a game.

Catcher McLean, the Dartmouth boy, is still in town. While McLean started bad he can play fine ball when going right and any N. E. team needing an extra catcher would do well to connect with him.

BASEBALL NOTES

Though late in the race the Detroit champions have not been shut out this season.

Recent averages show the New York Americans to be leading their league in long distance hitting.

Bugs Raymond's spiltball is said to make almost as much trouble for the catcher as for opposing batters.

Ray Thomas is slated to be let go by the Philadelphia Nationals. Osborne is filling the bill in center field.

If Griffith should trade Moriarty to Boston for Winter, what would he do for a utility man during Elberfeld's absence?

Not long ago the Brooklyn beat the New Yorks three straight, but they seem to have exhausted most of their energy in so doing.

In a schoolboy game in Cincinnati the other day signals were given by yelling of a string of numbers as in football. A better system is to have a few 500 hitters.

Mathewson has been cleaning up in the east, and if he doesn't hold his own against the strong westerners a good many local cranks will be disappointed.

It is said that Hughie Jennings has signed on the services of Rule Alvarado, the Indianapolis pitcher, who has been creating a sensation in the American association.

Clyde Waters, the former Williams college pitcher, basketball player and quarterback, has signed with the New Haven club of the Connecticut league. Waters was with Montreal a while last season.

To date the Princeton team has won 12 games and lost 2. Amnapolis has won 11 and lost 2. Yale won 8 and lost 2. Holy Cross won 8 and lost 2. Pennsylvania won 12 and lost 5. Cornell won 4 and lost 5. West Point won 3 and lost 4. Harvard won 5 and lost 5.

It turns out that Barney Dreyfuss could have had Lajoie at one time, but did not care to take the chance and give up for that player. There's no business in the business who has better judgment than Barney in sizing up young talent, and he can be forgiven for an occasional error of judgment.

"Ball clubs that haven't enough in them to question a ruling are always low in the race," is a remark credited to Frank Chance. What nonsense! Teams can win pennants without being questioners of rulings, which often is synonymous with umpire baiting, and being a tailender does not imply no kicking.

"Larry McLean backstopped excellently," according to a report. Hal Chase buntfields in fine style. Mike Dunlin hammers with the best of them. Jack Chesbro spiltballs in the most effective manner possible. Hans Wagner grounds out with the best of them and nobody flycatches better than Jimmy Scheckard.

Not a few twirlers can get in when a game is lost and pitch like a house afire who wouldn't do as well were it not that there was everything to gain and nothing to lose. It's pitching under a strain that furnishes the real test. The number of close games won in Overall's long list of consecutive victories makes his record all the more notable.

Fred Goldsmith, the old time pitcher, remarked the other day that there is nothing in baseball of the present era that Aaron's team did not have, and Jim O'Rourke agrees with him. Evidently, then, those persons who had the impression that there was such a thing in existence as the foul strike rule, which did not hamper the batting of the old timers, are dreaming.

HERRERA IS SLOW

Willie Fitzgerald Got the Decision

BOSTON, May 12.—Willie Fitzgerald of Philadelphia was awarded the decision over Aurelio Herrera, the Mexican, in their 12-round bout at the Armory A. A. last night. The contest did not come up to the expectation of the fans for the reason that the Mexican is "all in" as a boxer, and he realizes that fact, for he declared after the battle that he is through with the boxing game.

The long layoff he has had made him slow, listless and a poor judge of distance. He showed few flashes of his old-time style, and only twice did he get over blows that bothered Fitzgerald to any extent.

That Fitzgerald did not win decisively before the limit of the bout was reached was a surprise. He put the Mexican to the floor twice in the eighth round and sent him staggering to his corner. The Mexican was still in a bad way when he came up for the ninth round, but by good blocking and standing he gradually recuperated and lasted to the end.

Even though it was apparent after a few rounds that the Mexican had seen his best day, Fitzgerald showed a grain of the Mexican's right hand, a hard-fought, but hard-fought, fight, but the Mexican was not in good shape, but the Mexican took chances and let him hit quite often.

NASHUA GIVEN
A WHITEWASHMahoney Pitched a
Steady Game

Lowell High won its sixth consecutive victory at Spaulding Park yesterday afternoon, meeting and defeating the Nashua High school players, by the score of 8 to 0.

The day was ideal for baseball, and as a result the largest crowd of the season materialized at the grounds.

For six innings the contest was a somewhat slow affair, and then the local team woke up. Donahue did not play, several shifts in the lineup resulting from his absence, and needless to say, Joe's coaching was sadly missed.

As to stars, Lindsay Thompson played about the clearest all-around game. Thompson, although accepting 6 chances, did not make a single error; and his catching of fouls was regular big league work. Lindsay had 12 put-outs to his credit, while at bat scored two runs.

Mahoney's pitching was also of the first water, with 12 strikeouts, 6 hits, and only two bases on balls.

Foy's stick work, was conspicuous—four times at bat, three hits, and one strike-out.

In the first inning Lowell started the ball in relation, scoring one run. Thompson, the first man up, received free transportation to the initial sack. Foy hit safely, advancing Thompson to second.

Parker struck out, but Mahoney was right there with a two-bagger, which he lifted prettily from the end of his bat, scoring Thompson. Carrow hit to third, and was out at first.

The fourth saw another run added to the local team's tally. Mahoney "let the high ones go by," and walked to first. Carrow hit along the third-base line, and McOyle, the Nashua guardian of that position, pitched Mahoney at second on a fielder's choice. Carrow stole second, and Stephens connected safely, advancing him to third, from which he was brought home by McOyle's sacrifice to center-field. Swann drove second, and was out ere he reached the safe.

Carrow again scored in the sixth, receiving his base on balls, and stealing second. Stephens reached first on Stearns' error, Carrow "bumping it" to third. First baseman Ryan's error allowed McOyle to reach first, and permitted Carrow to make another connection with the scoreboard. Swann and Stevens were retired on a double play.

The greatest number of runs was made in the seventh inning. Thompson, Parker and Dodge crossing the plate. Dodge hit safely, and Thompson reached first on Seaman's error.

Foy's sacrifice placed Dodge on third, and Thompson on second. Parker was good for a timely two-bagger, which reached Dodge and Thompson. Mahoney hit to third and was out at first. Parker advancing to third. Carrow's single scored Parker, but Stephens, the next man up, sent a sky-scraper into the right out-field, clearing the side.

In the eighth inning Mahoney reached first on Stearns' error, going second on Seaman's sacrifice hit. Dodge walked. And then came Thompson with the prettiest hit of the game, a nice three-bagger, scoring McOyle and Dodge. Foy fanned, and Parker hit to Seaman and was retired.

First, ending the game as far as Lowell was concerned. The score:

JOTTINGS.

All up for the 12 Lawrence-Lowell game at Spaulding Park next Saturday. There will be several mass meetings for the purpose of working up life enthusiasm, and leading a little life in the students who seem to have fallen asleep, if one may judge by the attendance at the baseball games.

Lawrence agreed that as an umpire, "Bully" Thornton could not be beaten.

Parker scored a run and was considered a star of the game.

Stephens and McOyle deserve a rise in the batting order. They should be at first and third.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

Sharkey and Farrell, who played first base and second base respectively in the Spaulding Park, Holy Name soccer team, Saturday, should be replaced by Francis and Dowling, who are very clever and for the two former players and the two for the other members of the team.

The members of the Lowell camp, stationed in their baseball season in a hard-fought, but hard-fought, fight, but the Mexican was not in good shape, but the Mexican took chances and let him hit quite often.

The Young Travelers defeated the American Flock by a score of 15 to 11. We played a 6 inning game that was interesting on both sides.

We had only eight fellows and so did tatty, and we had to take another fellow named Beans who threw the ball all over the field so as to let the other side score. It is a good team excepting a few fellows who think they own the field.

HOME RULE A CERTAINTY

THE GOVERNMENT BILL PROVIDING FOR UNIVERSITY EDUCATION IN IRELAND SUCH AS THE PEOPLE HAVE BEEN DEMANDING FOR YEARS HAS PASSED THE HOUSE OF COMMONS AND ITS PASSAGE BY THE PEERS IS ASSURED.

THIS IS BUT ONE OF THE MANY SUBSTANTIAL REFORMS GRANTED IRELAND THROUGH THE EFFORTS OF THE IRISH PARLIAMENTARY PARTY UNDER THE ABLE LEADERSHIP OF JOHN E. REDMOND.

THERE ARE STILL PEOPLE WHO IN FACE OF THE MOST CONVINCING PROOFS WILL ASSERT THAT IRELAND WILL NEVER GET HOME RULE, ALTHOUGH THE FACT IS THAT NO FUTURE EVENT IS MORE CERTAIN THAN THAT A MEASURE OF HOME RULE WILL BE GRANTED WITHIN THE NEXT FEW YEARS. THE IRISHMAN WHO WOULD HAVE SAID A DOZEN YEARS AGO THAT THE SYSTEM OF LANDLORDISM IN IRELAND WOULD SOON BE BROKEN UP AND DESTROYED, WOULD BE ACCOUNTED CRAZY. THAT SYSTEM, HOWEVER, HAS BEEN OVERTHROWN. ONLY A SMALL REMNANT OF IT HOLDS OUT AGAINST SELLING TO THE TENANTS UNDER THE ACT OF 1903 AND THAT ACT IS SOON TO BE AMENDED SO AS TO MAKE IT COMPULSORY ON ALL LANDLORDS TO SELL WHERE THE TENANTS OR TWO-THIRDS OF THEM ON ANY ESTATE WANT TO BUY.

THAT BEING A FACT, AND A RESULT OF PARLIAMENTARY AGITATION, WHO CAN SAY THAT THIS SAME FORCE CANNOT AS READILY HAVE A PARLIAMENT ESTABLISHED IN IRELAND TO LEGISLATE ON IRISH AFFAIRS?

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS HAS ENDORSED THE PRINCIPLE OF HOME RULE AS THE ONLY PRACTICAL SOLUTION OF THE IRISH QUESTION. THAT MOTION CARRIED BY A VOTE PRACTICALLY TWO TO ONE REFLECTS THE VIEWS OF THE BRITISH DEMOCRACY AND THERE IS NO REASON TO BELIEVE THAT IT IS LIKELY SOON TO CHANGE.

THE IRISH PARTY AND THE LABOR PARTY OF ENGLAND ARE CLOSELY UNITED AND THEY HELP ONE ANOTHER. BETWEEN BOTH THEY HAVE FREQUENTLY THE BALANCE OF POWER ON A DIVISION IN PARLIAMENT, SO THAT AN OPPORTUNITY IS LIABLE TO ARISE AT ANY TIME THAT WILL ENABLE THEM TO SECURE HOME RULE EVEN SOONER THAN EXPECTED BY THE IRISH PEOPLE. THE FORCES THAT CARRIED CATHOLIC EMANCIPATION, THAT SECURED THE DIS-ESTABLISHMENT OF THE ENGLISH CHURCH IN IRELAND, THE EXTENSION OF THE FRANCHISE SO THAT THE PEOPLE CAN EXPRESS THEIR PREFERENCE AT THE POLLS, THE TENANT RIGHT LAW, THE RECENT LAND LAW, AND LAST BUT NOT LEAST, THE UNIVERSITY EDUCATION BILL WILL SOON ASTONISH THE WORLD BY WINNING BY SIMILAR MEANS THE RESTORATION OF IRELAND'S RIGHT TO MAKE HER OWN LAWS. THE PROGRESS IN THAT DIRECTION IS STEADY AND UNMISTAKABLE. THE COUNTY COUNCILS LAW GRANTED AN INSTALMENT OF HOME RULE. THE OTHER IRISH COUNCIL BILL REJECTED BY THE IRISH PARTY WAS INTENDED AS ANOTHER INSTALMENT BUT IT WAS SO MEAGRE THE PARTY WAS JUSTIFIED IN REJECTING IT.

TWO YEARS BEFORE THEY GOT THE LAND ACT OF 1903 THEY REJECTED AN ABORTIVE LAND MEASURE BUT SOON AFTER GOT WHAT THEY WANTED. SO WILL IT BE WITH HOME RULE DESPITE THE WHINE OF THE CHRONIC CROAKERS WHO SAY "HOME RULE" WILL NEVER COME. ALL THAT IS NECESSARY TO MAKE IT AN ABSOLUTE CERTAINTY IS A CONTINUATION OF THE PRESENT AGITATION CONDUCTED BY THE IRISH PEOPLE THROUGH THE UNITED IRISH LEAGUE.

THE MATRIMONIAL ADVERTISEMENT

IN THE WHOLESALE MURDER AT THE GUNNESS FARM IN LA PORTE, IND., THERE IS AN ILLUSTRATION OF THE DANGERS OF THE MATRIMONIAL ADVERTISEMENT.

MRS. GUNNESS HAD ADVERTISED WIDELY FOR A HUSBAND. A MAN WHO HAD MONEY, AND IN HER REPLY TO ALL WHO ANSWERED THE ADVERTISEMENTS SHE MADE A VERY FLATTERING OFFER OF HANDING OVER HER FARM AND HER MONEY TO THE MAN WHO SHOULD BE FORTUNATE ENOUGH TO MEET ALL REQUIREMENTS. SHE WASTED NO TIME IN SPOONEY CORRESPONDENCE. THE MAN WHO WISHED TO CONSIDER HER PROPOSITION MUST FIRST HAVE MONEY, AND SECOND HE MUST PAY HER A PERSONAL VISIT. IF HE HAD MONEY HE FOUND A PLACE IN HER PRIVATE GRAVEYARD.

THE MATRIMONIAL BUREAUS IN WHICH MEN ADVERTISE FOR WIVES HAVE USUALLY ADOPTED A DIFFERENT METHOD OF IMPOSING UPON THE CONFIDING APPLICANTS. IN THE FIRST PLACE THE LATTER HAD TO UNBOSOM THEMSELVES TO THE

BUREAU AND THEN PLANS WERE LAID TO BRING ABOUT THE DESIRED UNION.

AT A PHILADELPHIA BUREAU A MAN WAS EMPLOYED WHOSE BUSINESS IT WAS TO MARRY THE APPLICANTS AND DESERT THEM ON THE HONEYMOON OR AS SOON AS HE COULD SECURE THEIR MONEY. HE HAD RECEIVED A SCORE OR MORE IN THIS WAY. OTHER BUREAUS ADOPTED DIFFERENT METHODS TO ATTAIN THE SAME RESULT AND YET THERE STILL ARE WOMEN, AS THERE ARE MEN, THAT WILL TAKE SUCH DESPERATE CHANCES.

IT SEEMS THAT THERE WILL ALWAYS BE A FAIR PROPORTION OF FOOLS IN THIS WORLD. THE FACT IS PROVEN BY THE READY MARKET FOUND FOR GOLD BRICKS AND BY THE LOT OF PEOPLE WHO ANSWER MATRIMONIAL ADVERTISEMENTS. DO BUSINESS WITH SUCH BUREAUS AND COME TO GRIEF THROUGH THEIR OWN DELIBERATE ACTION.

SEEN AND HEARD

"The fact that the honey does not bring around the hive," neither does the man who gets the money hang around the estate.

A well-known man about town whose waist measure is very large and who has to resort to a tailor in order to get a good fit came puffing through the street the other day and after being held up by a crowd of his was asked what he was puffing for. "Well, you'd puff," he said, "if you had to stop in a hot room for about fifteen minutes while a tailor took your measure for a suit."

"Where did you go to get the suit?" asked the friend.

"Oh I went to that place up the street where they make the suits for the 'Bachelors' crowd," and then he wandered on his way.

Yesterday was a popular out and out summer day.

Patrolman Cook is thinking of launching into the restaurant business. He is a cook by name and in all probability is by nature.

Did you ever notice the cheerful smile that Deputy Welch wears on a Tuesday morning? The smiles because he thinks of the "Tuesday" mornings that he was gazed about the Wonders being defeated by the "Concomitars." Now it is "Oh, what a difference in the morning."

One does not have to go to the southern parts of these United States to revel in the glory of the sweet magnolia. We have them right here in Lowell, not many a dozen perhaps, in all and most of them are in the hands of the Irish.

A friend told this column yesterday you were probably a bit interested in the story of "Joe" Dutton's and "Bill" Dutton's experience on their fishing trip to St. Michaels, N. H.

We left Joe and Billy comfortably ensconced in the house that they had come to, and they were in the midst of an overcast on our part to sidetrack the information that they had been supplied with a key to the house upon leaving St. Michaels or perhaps before.

They were well supplied with food and other things, meaning, of course, pipes, tobacco and all else necessary for their trip. The room was a bit high in the kitchen and there were lounges and easy chairs galore.

The house had been well cared for. Billy had banked his high on the sides with straw bedding and despite his many sore spots caused by the onslaught of mosquitoes during his wild run through the dark darkness of the lonesome valley, he rested comfortably.

After rehearsing their adventures of a few hours before, Joe and Billy pulled their bunks up close to the fire place. The room had subsided and Billy, a little night lory as to further prognostications, remarked, very casually, that it looked as if the storm was about to clear away.

"Are the fishes weeping?" asked Joe. Billy detected the note of sarcasm in the question and just for that he wouldn't answer.

Joe was just asking when Billy shook the last bit of sleep from his Canadian dreamer and only a few more minutes and he would be snoring. Time when Billy, too, was in the land of nod.

He was the first to wake in the morning and looking out through the open window he discovered that more than five inches of snow had fallen during the night and his heart was sad within him. He arose and told Billy to take a look at the outside world.

"What's there, a dog?" inquired Joe. "No, but it would be a good morning to crank them," said Billy. When Joe looked out he said something and Billy had asked for a special favor that it be not refused.

Joe had been prepared in almost an instant to take his leave. The house had been well and warmly cared for. Billy had been told and he had been happy one of the trip. The storm had cleared away before Joe and Billy had broken their fast and about eight o'clock they set out on a hike that they had been told about in St. Michaels.

On the way to take their leave, they were in a bit of a hurry and there were some misunderstandings on either side. He was a party young man and just for excitement Joe wrapped the horse into a run and gave chase. The proximity of the stream was a great deal and instead of running on its course he turned to meet the enemy and made a run at the horse. Fortunately for him, Dutton the back tumbled him, but the latter's ankles caught the carriage at the very bar of the front axle and over it went. Joe and Billy went sprawling in the snow. The horse started at lightning speed in the opposite direction and the horse was gathering himself for another mad run when Joe grabbed the reins.

"This is an inflated spot," said Billy, after they had succeeded in righting the carriage.

"I wouldn't take that farm and its buildings for a gift," said Joe. "There's something uncanny about the place." Not to show the white feather too badly they decided to find the lake that had set out in search of. They found a foot thick. Fishing was one of the question and they turned their faces toward home. "This ends the story of their fishing trip and Billy vows that every word is the gospel truth."

KILL THE HOUSE FLY.

Philadelphia Inquirer: The fly transmits typhoid through its feet. It can carry germs of bacilli on each foot, and if it lands on food and the food is eaten disease is apt to follow. The fly does not wipe his feet, and there is no use in trying to train him to do so. The only resource is to get rid of him entirely. All careful housekeepers have their windows and doors screened, but only a valuable remedy as a matter of comfort; it does not go to the root of the trouble. The flies infest our shops and grocery stores, and we shall never be immune until we attack the fly as an enemy of society.

AMERICAN DENTISTRY.

Manchester Mirror: Among the arts and sciences in which America leads the world is dentistry. Frank Marshall White, in an article on "Modern Dentistry" in the June Cosmopolitan, says that for the last twenty years the leading dentists of almost every capital in the world have been Americans; that this country abounds in schools of dentistry that are not equaled in London, Paris or Berlin, and that their students come in part not only from all parts of Europe but from all over the world.

A few days ago the tragedy of the lottery ticket had its denouement when he died in the Peoria county poorhouse. The friend who bought the ticket from Conderhosen, well knowing its value, now lives in prosperity on the prize money.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

That President Roosevelt made his first public speech for the American Seamen's Friend society was recalled at the annual meeting of that organization yesterday afternoon, when an autographed photograph was presented from the president to the society's new Seamen's Institute.

Several men who heard young Roosevelt's bestowal of the society's library on board the clipper ship at Pier 18 on December 12, 1895, were present and described his maiden speech. He and a dozen of his playmates had chipped in to add another to the society's thousands of voyaging chests of books. As honorary vice-president of the American Seamen's Friend society, President Roosevelt still retains his interest in the work.

Stanley Day, president of the Stanley Day Advertising agency, one of the pioneer mail order concerns, died on Sunday night at his home in Newmarket, N. J. He was 76 years old. In the earlier part of his life he was engaged in newspaper work for the New York Tribune and Chicago and Canadian newspapers. He was born in England and came to this country 15 years ago. He lived in New York until 1881. Four sons and three daughters survive.

In an interview on the real conditions of the railroad and country, deprecating the optimism of the Street, Dow, Jones & Co. quote Samuel Rea, vice-president of the Pennsylvania railroad, as follows:

"We are passing through a most serious business depression, and are not yet out of the woods. Wall Street is apparently in a very hopeful mood, but I am disposed to believe that conditions at present and those immediately in sight do not warrant the Street's excessive optimism at this time. When railroad earnings on April 25 surplus, it is a comment on the parlousness of business. This country is running less than 50 per cent capacity. In comparison, as it is the prospect of very near demand for steel products from railroads during the balance of the year. Many of the railroads—and I include the Pennsylvania—will be in a position for some months to live off their fat. Liberal lift the roads and the country, however, period. The great success of the Pennsylvania road has done much to create a hopeful, courageous sentiment, but what is the railroad going to do? Washington says we must not reduce wages and the shippers say we must not add to the burden. One course or the other in many cases has got to be adopted."

NOVEL MECHANISM
INTRODUCED BY A LOCAL UNDERTAKER.

The march of progress has made changes in almost revolutionary nature in many lines of business, and the past generation, but in none has its effect been more striking and more beneficial than in that of the undertaker. Years ago the calling of the undertaker had a most gruesome aspect for all and his nocturnal visit with the unsightly "freezer," so-called only because he entered, but the perfection of the embalming process, even with the present generation, has done away with the ancient method of preparing a body for burial and year by year the undertaking business has undergone changes and improvements until within a very short time the last of the unsightly features of a burial, the lowering of the casket into the grave has been replaced by the introduction of a mechanical device that does away with the sullen, dark, and dusty, and trusted to grave-diggers whose appearance consisted of straps by which the casket was lowered sometimes rather roughly. It has been learned for Undertaker James W. McKenna, of Centralville, to introduce the latest appliance for lowering a casket into a grave, to lower a body into the earth, and the long hope for improvement attracted recently at St. Michaels, Vermont, the cause of this article. The undertaker's assistants had the appliance set up over the grave when the funeral party arrived. The bearers laid the casket in the box on the lowering machine. After the bearers had laid down their precious burden to other hands, they laid upon it. As the clergyman began his office for the dead, the undertaker, simply, took a lever and the casket slowly and easily descended into the grave. No strange hands were laid upon it at the final moment and no children's work or of each accidentally killed out of place by the country employes, as had been the case in the past. The appliance was used in a most perfect manner, and it is found to be a most perfect use of the years will be.

Undertaker McKenna, in addition to the above mentioned appliance, has introduced a new bereavement work which is undoubtedly one of the best and most modern funeral cars in use at the finest in New England. It is from the factory of James Cunningham & Co. of Rochester, N. Y., whose fame in this line is national. The house is of carved oak with French plate glass windows. A feature that distinguishes it from other hearses is the fact that the passenger for the casket, or the body of the car, is separated from the front or driver's seat and the interior may be viewed from four angles instead of three as in the old hearses. The four corners have four large pillars most beautifully carved while the base and top are also of carved oak. The hearse has two sets of beautiful interior draperies, one black for an

Many Towns Wrecked by Tornado in Nebraska

LINCOLN, Neb., May 12.—A special train Springfield, Neb., says a tornado tore yesterday afternoon wrecked the towns of Louisville, Bellevue and Richfield, killing several persons and injuring a large number. The heaviest loss of life is reported at Louisville, a junction point on the Missouri Pacific and Burlington roads in Cass county. Twelve persons are known to have been killed, and it is said between 40 and 50 are injured, many seriously and many fatally. The town of Bellevue suffered severely. Bellevue is the seat of Presbyterian College, which was damaged to the extent of $50,000. Lawry Hall and Rankin Hall were unroofed. The adult and the other while, for a child. The driver's seat is high and on either side is a large lamp with silver trimmings surmounting which stands high above the top of the vehicle. An interesting feature of the vehicle also is an electric bell arrangement from the doors of the horse to the driver's seat so that when the undertaker has placed the casket in the hearse he simply touches the button and the driver is notified that the procession is ready to start and obviates the necessity of calling out to the driver. To make the outfit complete Mr. McKenna has purchased two coal-black horses and a beautiful solid silver mounted set of harnesses.

SPRINGFIELD—May 12.—R. Hale Smith, aged 63, president and treasurer of the R. H. Smith manufacturing company, committed suicide at 9.35 o'clock last night in his office, 291 Main street, by shooting himself in the head. Mr. Smith is believed to have been mentally deranged. He attempted to take his life six months ago by asphyxiation in his office, but the attempt was discovered in time to save his life.

Mr. Smith had been in his office all the evening. Just before shooting himself he went across the street to the postoffice. He appeared to be cheerful, and in answer to a question said that money had been coming in very well during the day.

The last to leave the office was Mr. Smith's brother, Henry M. Smith, vice president of the company, at 7.59 o'clock. He received a telephone call at 9.20 o'clock and answering he heard Mr. Smith's voice. He said: "Come to the office at once." His brother asked him if it was important, and Mr. Smith replied: "Yes, very; come at once." Mr. Smith mounted his bicycle and rode to the office without delay. He arrived at 9.35 o'clock and found his brother sitting in his chair just breathing. He had shot himself in the temple, and a loaded revolver was by his side.

MILK STANDARD

Bill Provides for Same
One All Year

PLAN OF BOARD OF HEALTH

Was Adopted by the State Senate

BOSTON, May 13.—All yesterday afternoon the state senate labored to produce a new milk standard. Finally the work was done and a bill establishing a uniform standard of 12.25 percent milk solids and 3.25 fats, to operate throughout the year, was ordered to a third reading. This is the standard urged by the state board of health.

There was a rider attached to the measure, however, that aroused Senator Stevens of Middlesex and certain other members. It was the proviso that the producer may sell milk below the required standard if he marks the percentage of solids and fats it contains, the method of marking to be decided and approved by the state board of health and the dairy bureau. Senator Stevens contended that this proviso practically nullified any standard, but the bill, with this proviso still a part of it, was ordered to a third reading, on a roll call, 16 to 12.

Originally the committee on agriculture reported a bill incorporating a dual standard, 12.50 solids and 3.50 fats for the winter months and 12 percent solids and 3 percent fats for the summer months. That bill also provided that the producer might sell below standard, if he so marked his milk, and also that no person should be prosecuted under the act unless he had been notified within 12 months that he was selling milk below the standard. After this bill was reported the senate asked the state board of health for its opinion, and the board replied in favor of the single standard of 12.25 and 3.25.

Yesterday Senator Treadway offered an amendment to incorporate this single uniform standard, and he favored the marking rider.

Senator Cowee urged a single 12-3 percent standard. Senator Stevens came out for the standard suggested by the health board, without further change of present law.

Senator Treadway's amendment adopting the standard submitted by the board of health was adopted by voice vote.

Senator Potter moved to strike out the provision calling for notification of the milkman within 12 months previous to prosecution that he is selling below standard and this was adopted, 19 to 15.

Senator Stevens' bill, incorporating merely the state board of health's standard, was rejected, 7 to 15.

Senator Cowee's substitute bill for the uniform standard of 12 percent and 3 percent was rejected, 12 to 20.

A motion by Senator Lincoln to refer the whole matter to the next general court failed, 14 to 15.

The bill, with the below-standard milk rider was then ordered to a third reading, 16 to 12, on the following division:

Yea—Cowie, Dickinson, Flagg, Galland, Grimes, Hall, Hibbard, Johnson, Morse, Norcross, Richmond, Sutter, Schuster, Shaw, Treadway, Wheatley—16.

KINDERGARTENS

Meant For Poor People
Says Haverhill Woman

HAVERHILL, May 12.—Miss Anne M. Wheeler, who has represented ward 2 in the school board for 21 years, declared to the finance commission last night that she believed most people who allowed their children to attend kindergartens and vacation schools were those who could afford to conduct their own nurseries. She said the original intention of the Women's Literary Union had been to furnish such schools as would keep children off the streets in the poorer sections, but that since the school department had taken charge of the schools they had been extended to such sections as Walnut square and Kenosia avenue.

Miss Wheeler has been a member of the sub-committee on text books for several years, and in defending the expenditures for new books she said that while it was true that large sums were paid out each year for new books, the sub-committee was really saving money by a scheme they had evolved in changing courses. Instead of sending old books away to be re-bound or instead of buying new books for new courses, the committee waited until books were worn out and new ones were needed and then, by introducing the new books they were enabled to procure them at what is known as "introductory prices," which allowed them to obtain new courses as cheaply as new editions of the old courses could be secured.

GENERAL HOSPITALReport of the Board of Trustees Shows Successful Year

Tribute to the Memory of the Late Henry L. Tibbetts—John F. Sawyer and Walter L. Parker Elected to Management

The annual meeting of the board of trustees of the Lowell General hospital was held yesterday afternoon. George S. Motley, vice president, presided. The attendance was large and great satisfaction was expressed as to the affairs of the hospital. There was generous appreciation of the work being done at the hospital and the tuberculosis camp.

The following tribute to the memory of Henry L. Tibbetts, unanimously adopted by the board, was submitted by Mr. Larkin T. Tuck:

"The death of Henry Llewellyn Tibbetts on March 21, 1908, removed from this board one who was especially well qualified to perform the duties of trustee of this charitable institution. His Christian character, his active philanthropy, his good citizenship and his successful business career were known and recognized in this community. His sympathy for the sick, the needy and the unfortunate was easily aroused, and his responsive ready and generous with his time, abilities and money to the calls of his fellow men for assistance.

The trustees realize the great loss which has come to this charity by the death of Mr. Tibbetts and they are grateful for the true and able service which he rendered the institution."

The following report of the executive and house committees was submitted:

According to the by-laws of the Lowell General hospital, the trustees have certain duties toward the corporation, one of which is to lay before the corporation at each annual meeting a written report on the "general status of the institution." The following report of the executive and house committees may be regarded as a contribution to this end.

Generally speaking, everything connected with the hospital, so far as this committee is able to judge, is in a very satisfactory condition. The grounds are in fine order, the buildings are in good repair, there is a good hospital for the year, and the work of the hospital is being carried on in a most efficient manner. In a word, the year has been a very prosperous one for the Lowell General hospital.

But the year has not been without its sadness. Only a few weeks ago we were called upon to mourn the loss of one of our most valued citizens, Henry L. Tibbetts, who for many years has been a member of our board of trustees. His death was a great loss to the hospital and to the community. His Christian character, his active philanthropy, his good citizenship and his successful business career were known and recognized in this community. His sympathy for the sick, the needy and the unfortunate was easily aroused, and his responsive ready and generous with his time, abilities and money to the calls of his fellow men for assistance.

The hospital is doing a large amount of charity work. Over one-half of all the work must be put in this class. The actual cost to the hospital for each patient is about $13.50 per week. Any person paying less than this amount is thereby drawing upon the charitable fund; while anyone paying more than said amount is not only thereby paying his way, but is contributing to the support of some other patient paying a less amount. It might be added right here that not a single case has been refused admission because of inability to pay.

It is possible that there is somewhere in the world a hospital that has all the money it needs, but we have never heard of it! A first class hospital is always crying for more funds! The better the hospital the more are the demands made upon it! As the science of medicine advances, so hospital needs become more urgent. There must be new apparatus, thoroughly equipped laboratories, expensive methods of treatment, etc.

Since the enlargement of the nurses' home with its new bath rooms, etc., etc., it may truly be said we have a very satisfactory building for its purpose and one which will probably meet the needs of the hospital for many years to come. By using the tunnel the nurses may now reach the home without exposure to inclement weather. During the year the course of instruction for nurses has been advanced from two to two and one-half years.

The X-ray outfit is now most complete. The machine itself is a very late pattern, while a number of accessories have been added to it from time to time at the request of the hospital staff.

Practically all of the laundry work of the hospital is now done in the new steam laundry plant. The advantages of this plant over the older method of doing laundry work are very evident to those who have seen the results from each kind.

The most casual visitor to the hospital cannot but be impressed at the beauty of our extensive grounds. It would seem as if this tract of over 55 acres of land was made purposely for hospital use! The land is so nicely arranged, the natural drainage is so good, the graves are so varied and beautiful, the windings of the river are so charming, and the views from every quarter so extensive and grand that we must all put under the deepest obligation to those who wisely selected this ideal spot for a hospital.

Two years ago the first of this month the tuberculosis camp opened with an attendance of five. One year ago six were present at the opening day. This year we opened with 22. As the full capacity of the camp is 28 there is no question but that camp will be turned away for lack of room. This camp has not only done great good to those who have attended it during the last two years, but we believe it has been of inestimable value as an educational factor to this whole community. We might suggest to the friends of the hospital that they could greatly contribute to the pleasure and comfort of the campers if they would supply the camp with magazines, papers and books, for which they have no further use. Perhaps, too, some friends would like to contribute a few summer chairs or some kind of outdoor games.

The Hospital Aid association is simply indispensable to the successful work of the hospital. It furnishes bed and table linen, towels, blankets, night robes, slippers, etc., etc., to an extent which would cause a heavy burden on the hospital income were it necessary to purchase the same. But this association does other work which it would be quite impossible to purchase for dollars and cents. The members become better acquainted with hospital work and hospital life, and are thereby able to contribute a large amount of that support which is so absolutely essential if the high standard of the hospital is ever to be maintained and steadily advanced.

Much that has been said applies with equal force to the Young Women's Hospital guild. The guild has taken under its special care the children's ward. While in the past it has given large sums of money for the purchase of instruments, apparatus, etc., yet its especial purpose at present is to care for the children in the hospital, purchasing whatever apparatus or instruments may be necessary for this department, supplying the children with tents, and in every way contributing to their happiness and recovery. At the same time the guild has erected and equipped a shack at the tuberculosis camp for the accommodation of four patients who are to be either children or young girls. The enthusiasm displayed by the individual members of the guild must be intensely gratifying to the guild itself, while the hospital authorities certainly feel deeply grateful for such strong support.

The superintendent of the hospital reports that 253 patients have been admitted during the year; number of births, 68; number of operations performed, 351; amount collected from board of patients, $15,328.76; number of nurses, 22.

Your committee would like to take advantage of this occasion to express its high appreciation of the work performed by the superintendent, Miss Sarah A. Bowen, and the assistant su-

Your committee would like to take advantage of this occasion to express its high appreciation of the work performed by the superintendent, Miss Sarah A. Bowen, and the assistant superintendent, Mrs. Inez C. Lord. Both these officers have ever shown a most zealous and self-sacrificing interest in the welfare of the hospital. Their work has been eminently satisfactory in every way.

We believe we have in our hospital staff as good a representation of the medical profession as can be found connected with any hospital the size of ours in any part of the country. They have brought great reputation to the hospital, and have enabled the hospital authorities to offer skillful service to those who would be entirely unable to pay for such treatment. Were their services better known to us by their value as noted in dollars and cents, we would all surely be greatly surprised at the large contribution thus made to charity.

Your committee does not hesitate to say, based upon an intimate knowledge of the workings of the hospital, that we have in the Lowell General Hospital an institution which, for its size, cannot be excelled for the relief and cure of disease.

SEVEN MEN DEAD

Miners Were Killed by Explosion in a Colliery

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 13.—Seven miners were instantly killed and more than a dozen injured yesterday afternoon in an explosion in the Mount Lookout colliery of the Temple Coal and Iron company at Wyoming near here.

All those injured live in the neighborhood of the colliery. They were burned upon face and hands. Five others were burned in the same way.

The explosion occurred six hundred feet underground and 600 feet from the shaft up which the miners make their exit. John Smith, left a small "gas feeder" in the extreme end of the gangway burning all last night, which set fire to the timbers and the coal. Early today when the fire boss started into the mine to make his rounds he discovered the fire. He at once hurried it and with three men he tried to subdue the flames, but they met

Baker of Concord, N. H.; Joseph E. Fernald of Concord, N. H.; and Archibald McLane, of Boston, the extensive estate on which she lives at Chestnut Hill. The estate was formerly owned by R. Ashton Lawrence and was bought, with several other parcels of land, by Robert H. Walker of Chicago last fall. The house was extensively remodelled and on January 26th, Mrs. Eddy, with her household moved into the mansion, coming by special train from her former home in Concord, N. H. Later the title to the property was transferred to her name.

SALT ON TRACK

PRESIDENT'S DAUGHTER HAD PLACED IT ON SEAT.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Mrs. Longworth, radiant in a costume of blue, entered the executive gallery of the house reserved for the president a few minutes before the house was called to order at noon, yesterday. Finding a lack on the floor, the daughter of the president unthinkingly placed it on the chair adjoining the one she occupied. A gentleman of the party coming in a few minutes later sat on the lack, and he got up again smothering some language that would not sound well in a parlor. Mrs. Longworth was so overcome with merriment that she left the gallery.

GEO. R. M. WELLS ARTIST LEAVITT

Theological Student Examined for Ordination AND COUNCIL UNANIMOUSLY APPROVES

Baptist Council Met at South Chelmsford

PARIS, May 13.—W. H. Leavitt, a son-in-law of W. J. Bryan, had a dangerous encounter in this city Monday with an Italian named Cuna who had been sitting for Mr. Leavitt as a model for a picture which the American artist is painting.

After being released from his engagement Cuna returned repeatedly to Mr. Leavitt's studio and demanded extra compensation. This was refused him. He finally came back armed with a large bludgeon with which he struck Mr. Leavitt a blow on the head. The artist was knocked down but jumped up and defended himself with a knife. He cut Cuna in the head. Help came and the Italian was arrested and taken to a hospital. Mr. Leavitt also was cut on the head by the blow from the stick but neither man is in a critical condition.

AFTER 50 YEARS

Chelmsford Couple Plan Second Honeymoon

On Saturday next Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Simons of Chelmsford Centre will observe the 50th anniversary of their marriage. Owing to Mrs. Simons' poor health the couple instead of having a celebration will go to Mr. Simons' native town on a second honeymoon trip.

Mr. Simons was born in Warner, N. H., 11 years ago, on the ninth of March. His parents removed to Lowell when he was four years old, and he went to school here, and then learned the shoemaker's trade, at which he worked for 11 years. For three years he was employed upon the railroad, and then went into the hat peddling business, working for Meigs hall for 20 years. He went to Robins hill in Chelmsford 25 years ago, and has made his home there ever since. He made the hill a popular resort at one time, and many parties were attracted there by the unusually fine view. Mr. Simons is a Mason, and has been an Odd Fellow.

Mrs. Simons was Rachel S. Hill, and was born in Lowell, where she spent the greatest part of her life. They were married by Rev. Mr. Dutton, and had eight children, two daughters of whom are still living. Mrs. Simons will be 69 years old on the 24th of next month.

THE MATHEWS

Will Join Local Catholic Federation

The regular weekly meeting of the Mathews was held last evening and much business was transacted. Pres. John J. Coyne presided and reports of committees were heard at some length. The minstrel show committee reported on the preparations for that event while the committee in charge of the trip to Worcester on July 4th reported progress.

A communication relative to the appointment of seven delegates to attend a meeting of Catholic societies in Hibernian hall next month was read. This meeting is called to form a local federation, and the society voted to be represented at the meeting. The delegates will be appointed later.

A FEDERATION

Of Catholic Societies to be Formed June 7th

The project to form a local federation of Catholic societies was given a decided impetus last evening when two local bodies voted to send representatives to the convention on Sunday, June 7th, at A. O. H. hall. During the week Mr. James O'Sullivan, chairman of the committee in charge of the recent St. Patrick's day banquet, sent out notices to each society relative to the federation idea, in compliance with a vote of the committee. The Mathews and Division 11, A. O. H., at their meetings last evening took favorable action on the matter while the Y. M. C. C. voted against the idea on a close vote, 10 in favor and 12 opposed. Chairman O'Sullivan is enthusiastic over the prospects of the formation of the federation and hopes to have every society identified with it. Other societies, it is believed, will take favorable action.

DIED SUDDENLY

"The" Allen Was Well Known Character

NEW YORK, May 13.—Theodore Allen, known throughout the sporting world as "The" Allen, died suddenly last night at the home of his son-in-law, Clarence E. Owen, in West 58th street.

Ten hours later the coroner intervened in preparations for the embalming of the body and ordered an autopsy performed. Members of the family were summoned by the coroner and examined. Allen's physician, Dr. Herman Becker, reported that Mr. Allen had died from locomotor ataxia, that is, of the dead man's brothers, Martin Van Buren Allen, declared it was "The" Allen who had died as the result of foul play.

Allen was 37 years of age and had a notable and spectacular career. He was best known as a promoter of pool rooms and as a bookmaker. In connection with pool room operations he was arrested no less than eight times, but managed to escape penal sentences.

METHUEN MAN

SAID TO HAVE PLANNED TO BRING ALIENS HERE

BOSTON, May 13.—Henry Barnson of Methuen, Mass., and Mitchell Northrop of Greystone, R. I., were placed on trial in the United States district court today on a charge of conspiring to bring aliens into the country.

The indictment alleges that Benjamin Smith, his wife and eight children were brought to Boston from Europe on April 21, 1907, under a promise that several of the family should obtain work at Greystone in a woolen mill and that the arrangements in this country were made by Barnson and Northrop.

MULLINS CASE SPECIAL MEETING

Conductor Shea's Evidence Breaks Down
Of Town of Tewksbury
Called for May 16

WAS MIXED ON HIS DATES

Strongest Link in Chain Taken Away

BOSTON, May 13.—Evidence, which the police are satisfied nullifies the testimony of Conductor Shea and practically takes away the strongest link in the chain of guilt they have been attempting to weld about the suspect in the Annie Mullins murder case, was brought to light by the authorities yesterday.

Shea, the police are firmly convinced from absolutely reliable evidence, got mixed up in his dates.

Corroborated testimony of the most reliable and conclusive sort has, it is known, caused the officers working on the case to come to this conclusion.

The officers on the case, it is said on reliable authority, will wait until they see Shea today, and tell him of what they learned, before they, in justice to the suspect, give the story of their disappointment to the world.

was not dropped before the staging went down.

Drs. T. B. Smith and James J. Hoban, the latter of St. John's hospital, testified as to the injuries sustained by the men.

Louis Cayer, father of the young man who was injured, testified that before the accident his son was a strong boy and had a good mind and memory. Since the accident he has been weak and has done no work, and he does not appear to understand as he did before the accident, and his memory is impaired. He asks the same questions two or three times a day. At one time he imagined that soldiers were going to take him. Again he would fall down on the floor and slap his head with his hands, and say that somebody was driving nails through his head. Instead of being happy, as before the accident, he now appears to be thinking all the time.

JUNGEIRA'S AGED PARENTS.

At the opening of court this morning Manuel Gonzalez, a brother-in-law of Manuel Gomez Junqueira, the Portuguese workman who was killed in the accident, was on the stand and he testified to knowing the deceased and his family in Madeira and he knew Gomez in this country. He left Madeira to visit his wife and saw Gomez's parents on the day he left. Gomez's father, he said, was more or less sickly while his mother was old. Witness in answer to Mr. O'Connor's question said that Gomez told him three days before he died that on the following day he intended to send some money home to his father. He also spoke of sending back money to pay back the amount of his passage which he had borrowed. The examination of the witness was frequently interrupted by objections from Mr. Dunbar, for the defense.

Antonio C. Causo, the Summer street bar, who also conducts a steamship agency and bank of exchange, testified that on October 31, a few days before the accident Gomez visited his place for the purpose of sending home $12.50. Gomez said at the time that the money was for the support of his poor father and mother who were sickly.

Mr. Causo produced the stubs from his book showing a draft for 10 pounds from Gomez to his father. He related a conversation held previously in which Gomez said that he was supporting his father and mother who were old and sickly. He showed a stub for three drafts for 2 pounds, 10 shillings, sent by Gomez to his father.

On cross-examination witness was asked if he knew that Madeira was a health resort. He replied negatively and further stated that he had heard Gomez say that his parents were old and sickly.

Thomas M. Garghan, a brother of John Garghan who was killed in the accident, testified that his parents were dead and that on May 1, 1907, he left his work in the Bunting mills on account of pains in his heart, on advice of Dr. Welch. He remained out six or seven months. He had no money of his own. He and his brother lived with his aunt and the aunt paid their board. When witness came out of work his board was paid by his brothers, John and William. John was paying witness board at the time of the accident. Then witness had to go to work and he went to the Middlesex and the heart trouble came back but he continued working until a week ago.

COURT STOPS WITNESS.

On cross-examination witness said he left work early in May and went to the Middlesex in the middle of the month. During that time he saw the doctor five or six times at his office and once at his home. Witness said he smoked a pipe and once in a while a cigar.

The witness spoke in whispers and though several times asked to raise his voice still spoke in a whisper.

Finally Judge King said: "You must speak louder or I shall order you to leave the witness stand."

But the witness spoke no louder and in a few minutes Judge King said: "Well suspend the examination at this point until the witness can talk so as to be heard."

Lawyer Hogan protested that the witness' attitude was due to his physical condition.

Judge King said: "If that is so I shall reconsider the matter. But there is one thing I cannot tolerate and that is a witness who will not talk aloud or do not mean to reflect on the witness but must talk so that the jury can hear him."

Dr. Edward J. Welch was then called and he testified that he had examined the previous witness and found him to have a leakage of a valve of the heart. He described the condition of health that such an ailment would cause and stated that in his opinion the ailment was permanent and that the young man would never be able to do any hard work for any length of time.

Lawyer Dunbar asked Dr. Welch if smoking was beneficial in such cases and the witness replied that smoking was bad for such cases and that he had advised Garghan not to smoke.

Lawyer Hogan asked Dr. Welch if such an ailment would have any effect on the voice, keeping it raised for instance. Dr. Welch replied that it would give a person that affected great effort to speak aloud any length of time.

Lawyer Dunbar asked if a man who had worked in a mill could lift a load enough for a jury five feet away to hear him. Dr. Welch replied: "Not necessarily."

The court then allowed Garghan to take the stand again and the cross-examination was resumed.

The case was still on at the conclusion of today's session.

DESPERATE FIGHT SELLING TO MINOR

To be Made for Roy Lamphere, Man Was Fined For Selling Suspected Murderer Cigaretts to a Girl

Prosecutor Smith Decides to Delay His Arraignment—Many Inquiries About Visitors to the Gunness Farm—Few of the Bodies Have Been Identified to any Degree

LAPORTE, Ind., May 13.—Unless the sifting and shuffling of the powdered debris taken from the cellar of the ruined Gunness farmhouse results in startling discoveries today, the production of further tangible evidence in the tragedy is not likely. The authorities must now find the corroborative details of the main points already deduced and forge the missing links in the chain of testimony with which they are bringing the more or less scattered parts of the baffling case into a coherent whole. Just how successful they will be is not likely to be revealed until Roy Lamphere is brought to trial.

Prosecutor Smith has evidently modified his previous determination to rush the case into court, finding that the state's side may be strengthened in many particulars. He insists that the evidence in hand is sufficient to prove the state's contentions but the recent activities of the defense and the strengthening of its forces show that a desperate fight is to be made on both sides of the Lamphere case working behind the scenes and with Sheriff Smutzer occupied with the slow-going sifting operations at the farm, there are few fresh developments to satisfy the public curiosity in the affair. Coroner Mack has received and made public the results of his investigations on the known bodies except that supposed to have been Ole Budberg of Iowa.

The four burned bodies found in the ruins of the house are dead issues so far as further investigation by the coroner is concerned and he has also received reports from the examining physicians from the Helgelein and Jennie Olsen cadavers.

None of the other bodies has been identified to any degree and it is scarcely likely that they will be owing to their state.

What developments to come probably will be in the direction of establishing the identity of more of the mysterious men who never leave the farmhouse but never leave the yard. Yesterday three such persons were connected with the Gunness woman, the evidence regarding John Moe of Elbow Lake, Minn., Henry Gerholl of Scandinavia, Wis., being almost conclusive. The fate of George Brady of Tuscola, Ill., is less certain. Moe was traced to the farm by means of the banking actions which preceded his visit. The facts show were similar to those brought to light in the cases of Ole Budberg and Andrew Helgelein. Each of the men cashed a check, draft or note for a considerable amount at one or the other of the local banks and at the desks of the cashiers all the trails end.

It is considered possible that an inspection of the books of the banks would reveal further evidence of a similar nature. The officials of the Laporte financial institutions, however, seem loath to impart such information, if they have any, although willing enough to reveal full details when once the identity of a particular transaction is known. Because of this the authorities are investigating every clue regarding missing strangers. Scores of letters asking about supposed visitors to the Gunness farm have been received, but the vast majority of these epistles are either vague, illegible or anonymous. Budberg and Moe were found through inquiries emanating from the Farmers State bank of Iowa, Wis., the letters being complete in detail and definite as to dates and places. Such letters are sure to receive consideration by the local authorities.

DOES NOT KNOW WHAT RETURN WILL BE.

LAPORTE, Ind., May 13.—Evidence to establish the identity of three additional victims of Mrs. Polly Gunness was the most positive development of a day filled with contradictory happenings here yesterday. With prosecution and defense received set backs from the discoveries and revelations, but on the whole substantial progress was made toward bringing the case to the trial where it will be transferred to the courts.

The reports of the four persons who conducted the post-mortem examinations on the bodies found in the ruins of the Gunness home April 13, were given to the coroner's jury at 10:30 this morning. They fell to rest in the manner in which the coroner and three children met death and it is probable that the coroner's jury will return an open verdict regarding them.

The procedure in Indiana does not provide for coroner's juries, so the finding was by the individual conclusions of the coroner.

Mr. Mack said yesterday that he had no idea as to what his return will be. The prosecuting attorney is not dependent upon the coroner for findings upon which to base a jury or other court action.

The two efforts in this case are, in fact, proceeding almost independently of each other.

Prosecutor R. N. Smith is still collecting evidence, which he asserts will connect Roy Lamphere with the death of Mrs. Gunness and her three children, and in this work he is being aided by the sheriff. New facts brought to light yesterday, concerning the body supposed to be that of Mrs. Gunness are as follows:

That the right arm is practically complete and that most of the left forearm and hand are in existence. Hitherto the complete arm had been known as the left arm and the right arm was supposed to have been completely consumed in the fire.

That three things, two containing inscriptions, had been found on the arm. That with the body had been discovered fragments of bed clothing and of a feather mattress, the remains of four night dresses, the one of an adult and the others those of a child, and fragments of adult underwear.

The rings presented a puzzle which thus far has not been solved. The inscriptions contain initials which are unaccountable except upon one hypothesis, that being that the ornaments were the property of Peter Gunness' first wife, that he presented them to Mrs. Gunness, or that she obtained possession of them after his death and that she wore them on the night when the house was burned.

The new victims of Mrs. Gunness are supposed to have been John Moe of Elbow Lake, Minn.; Henry Gerholl of Scandinavia, Wis.; a small town near Iowa from which Ole Budberg came, and George Berry, of Tuscola, Ill.

A GOLD TOOTH

WAS FOUND ON THE GUNNESS FARM.

LAPORTE, Ind., May 13.—A gold tooth was found on the Gunness farm today. The tooth was found in the debris of the cellar while Sheriff Smutzer was continuing his preparations to begin sifting the ashes.

The tooth, a metal with a gold crown, the metal being indented and some extent encrusted by cinders. The tooth, however, bears every evidence of having come from the incinerated skull of Mrs. Gunness.

Evidence which has hitherto been suppressed, was made public today. It contained in the report of Dr. J. L. Gray who performed the autopsy on the body which the authorities have claimed is that of Mrs. Gunness. Dr. Gray tells of three rings which were found upon the corpse and also reveals the fact that the right hand, hitherto declared missing, it still in existence.

REV. FR. WILLIAMS DEAD.

BOSTON, May 13.—Rev. Fr. Williams, D. D., of the diocese of Colorado, formerly one of the best known Episcopal clergymen in this country, died at his summer home in Orono, Maine, yesterday. Following a illness of about a week.

Rev. Fr. Williams was born in Boston in 1834, and was graduated from Harvard in President Eliot's class.

Marcus Mammel, who conducts a fruit and confectionery store in Church street opposite the City Washington Tavern, appeared before Judge Hadley in police court this morning and was fined $10 for selling a package of cigarettes to a minor.

Last night while on his way home, Inspector Atkinson entered a fruit store to make a purchase and while in there a girl about eleven years of age entered the place and asked for a box of cigarettes, stating that her brother had sent her out to make the purchase. The men refused to sell the cigarettes to the girl.

The girl then left the store and the officer thinking that she would go to some other store, followed. She entered Manuel's place and succeeded in purchasing the cigarettes. Inspector Atkinson took the cigarettes away from the girl when the latter left the store and then went to the police station and made complaint against Manuel.

William Livezey, a third offender, was sentenced to three months in jail.

George H. Perkins, a resident of Nashua, pleaded guilty to drunkenness. It was his second offense and he was fined $5.

Michael O'Donnell, a parole man from the state farm, will be returned to that institution.

A couple of weeks ago Peter Vashon, a young man about 18 years of age, was arrested, charged with theft, and he testified that Bureleigh and another fellow did the stealing while he kept watch, ready to signal the two men if any one approached. Vashon was given a suspended sentence to the Massachusetts reformatory, and was placed in the hands of the probation officer for one year.

THE COMMITTEE ON SEWERS

To Visit Oakland and Wigginvill Tomorrow

The big loan order for sewers, extraordinary, is up to Mayor Farnham for his signature. The order reached his office early this morning but up to the time of going to press the mayor had not signed the important document.

"Will you sign the order today?" was asked.

"I do not know. I am considering it," said the mayor.

While the mayor says he is withholding his endorsement for the purpose of thoroughly considering the order, those thoroughly anxious that the order should become operative are not so fearful that the mayor will refuse to sign it.

The committee on sewers will visit the Oakland and Wigginvill districts tomorrow afternoon. The committee will pay particular attention to Wigginvill as operations will soon there first.

City Engineer Bowser will accompany the committee and will furnish estimates for the different sewers and in the evening the committee will meet and make its recommendations. The committee's recommendations will go to the board of aldermen Tuesday night, and if all is well arrangements to start work in Wigginvill will be complete on Wednesday morning.

There are those who wonder why work on new sewers has been delayed. New sewers are to be built in Stevens, Highland and Water streets and Highland street.

"Why has the work on these sewers been delayed?"

That question was asked in the mayor's office this morning and the answer was that the committee had not yet made its recommendations. BRITISH BARK

ARRIVED FROM MELBOURNE AFTER PASSAGE OF 13 DAYS.

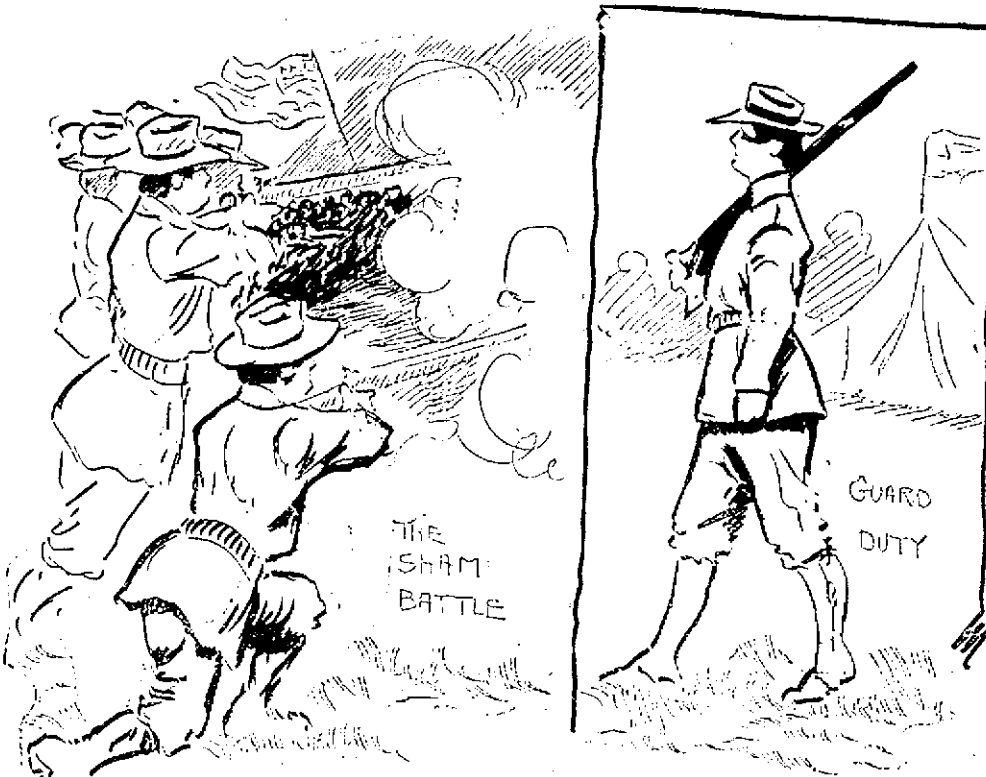

BOSTON, May 12.—The British bark Loch Eilva arrived yesterday from Melbourne, after a passage of 13 days. A preliminary report for the safety of the vessel was sent, because on two previous occasions the bark had made the distance in a month or more. The bark brought 2000 bales of wool valued, duty paid, at $33,000. Capt. Macdonald reported that the long passage was due to calm, two months being required to cover 200 miles in the South Atlantic.

The Loch Eilva came direct to Boston, making no stops for supplies, and some of the seamen complained they were put on short rations that did not improve when complaint was made by a sailor named H. Ward, who said he was at one time a Mississippi river pilot.

Capt. Macdonald told reporters that the bark had more than the amount of fuel required by the British board of trade regulations, and there was no reason in their conditions.

The bark, owned by Cape Horn P. & N. Co., was in perfect weather and encountered no difficulties. Chief Officer George Napier of Glasgow, an amateur photographer, has a volume of snapshots taken at sea, including a picture of a tremendous sea monster over 200 yards long, quartered in a deep gale south of Cape Horn.

The Loch Eilva is 20 years old, and in former years was a passenger clipper running between Great Britain and Melbourne.

DIED IN PRISON

Man Was Sent There For Life

THOMASTOWN, Me., May 13.—Alfred Savage, aged 63, a life convict committed from York county June 1, 1878, for the murder of his sweetheart Rose Vincent, died today in the state hospital after a long illness which terminated in dropsy. Savage during his 30 years confinement has maintained the reputation of being a model prisoner.

The crime for which he was sentenced was considered most brutal. It was alleged that he took the woman for a sail on the Saco river, deliberately drowned her and towed the body to a wharf where he lived it and where it later was found.

Savage, who had resumed work on the farm of Deputy Sheriff Richard Grant at Saco where he and Miss Vincent were employed was suspected almost immediately after the finding of the body and arrested. It is stated that the victim was handsome and Savage was deeply in love with her but that she paid little attention to him.

CIRCUS CAR

OF THE BARNUM & BAILEY SHOW COMES TO TOWN.

Fences, barns and brick walls have been made rosy today by a corps of billposters who came in on an advertising car to spread the glad news of the arrival soon of the Barnum and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth. The advertising car is under the management of Harry B. Graham, and with it also came Frank J. O'Donnell, the press representative of the show. The show comes here Wednesday, June 3.

Mr. O'Donnell states that the Barnum and Bailey circus is larger this season than ever before in its fifty-four years' history and that it also has been vastly improved. Business, he says, has broken all previous records. The engagement at the Madison Square Garden in New York was the largest in point of attendance ever held there and the performance was the best ever offered by the Barnum and Bailey management.

LYNN, May 12.—Lynn won a 10-inning game from Lowell yesterday by the score of 2 to 1, the winning run being scored through the failure of Harris, Lowell's third baseman, to hold Locke's throw to head off Miller's attempted steal from second, allowing Miller to score. Each team had scored one earned run at the end of the fourth, but effective work by both pitchers prevented run getting until the tenth. The score:

DIAMOND NOTES

Lowell at Glen Forest today.
Games here, Lawrence tomorrow, Worcester, Friday and Saturday.

President Winn says he has secured George Rivard of the Providence Eastern league team.

A morning paper says:
The effect of Duggan's suspension will be watched with interest. Duggan allows that he has been doing his best, but if that is true, he has gone back a lot since last season, and should not be retained.
Duff allows that he's doing his best.

likewise Greenwell, Kenniston, Warner and the rest who have sore arms. If Duggan is suspended why not suspend the others and if Duggan has gone back and should not be retained why not fire all the others who have gone back also if Duggan has?

"Why don't you knock that team!" exclaim the fans in numbers to the writer. What's the use of knocking it's encouragement that's needed and the players aren't getting it either from the management or the fans. Nearly every place in the team is known as a good ball player yet all have started badly and the management instead of encouraging them suspends one man before the first pay day has come around and sends another in to pitch knowing that his arm was bad, while a pitcher with a good arm, ready and willing to work is kept on the bench until the game has been lost. Another player is confined to his lodging house with a bad knee, and although barely able to walk, is asked by the management to put on a uniform and try to play. Unless the management of any team uses the players right, all the suspensions and fines that may be imposed will not make the players deliver the goods while releases will do no good because there's a sort of free-masonry among ball players and once a manager becomes "marked" he might as well put the job in somebody's else name.

It is expected that Lawrence will try out Walter Poye today.

Catcher Price, recently released by Lowell, received a long looked for letter from home, yesterday and immediately took a train with Bloomberg, Pa. as his destination. He has a little heart to heart talk prepared for Jack Clemens, manager of the Williamsport team who wanted a copy picture of Lowell and its opportunities to him.

It seems awfully quiet without Rhoddy in the lineup.

"Hi Hi" Dickson who has probably dropped as many quarters at the box office as any man in Lowell or Tewksbury has solemnly declared that they won't get "tippence" from him until the team wins a game.

Catcher McLean, the Dartmouth boy, is still in town. While McLean started bad he can play fine ball when going right and any N. E. team needing an extra catcher would do well to connect with him.

SIXTH VICTORY

NASHUA HIGH GIVEN
A WHITEWASHMahoney Pitched a
Steady Game

Lowell High won its sixth consecutive victory at Spaulding Park yesterday afternoon, meeting and defeating the Nashua High school players, by the score of 5 to 0.

The day was ideal for baseball, and as a result the largest crowd of the season materialized at the grounds.

For six innings the contest was a somewhat slow affair, and then the local team woke up. Donahue did not play, several shifts in the lineup resulting from his absence, and needless to say, Joe's coaching was early missed.

As to stars, Lindsay Thompson played about the clearest all-around game. Thompson, although accepting 15 chances, did not make a single error; and his catching of fouls was regular big league work. Lindsay had 11 put-outs to his credit; while at bat scored two runs.

Mahoney's pitching was also of the first water, with 12 strikeouts, 6 hits, and only two bases on balls.

Poye's stick work was conspicuous—four times at bat, three hits, and one strike-out.

In the first inning Lowell started the ball in motion, scoring one run. Thompson, the first man up, received for transportation to the initial sack. Poye hit safely, advancing Thompson to second. Parker struck out, but Mahoney was right there with a two-bagger, which he lifted prettily from the end of his bat, scoring Thompson. Carrow hit to third, and was out at first.

The fourth saw another run added to the local team's tally. Mahoney "let the high ones go by," and walked to first. Carrow hit along the third-base line, and McCoy, the Nashua guardian of that position, nailed Mahoney at second on a slider's choice. Carrow stole second, and Stephens connected safely, advancing him to third from which bag he was brought home by McVey's sacrifice to center field. Swann drove safely, and was out after he reached the safety of bag 1.

Carrow again scored in the sixth, receiving his base on balls, and striding second. Stephens reached first on Daney's error. Carrow "biking it" to third. First baseman Ryan's error allowed McVey to reach first, and permitted Carrow to make another connection with the scoreboard. Swann and Stephens were retired on a double play.

The greatest number of runs was made in the seventh inning. Thompson, Parker and Dodge crossed the plate. Dodge hit safely, and Thompson reached first on Seaman's error.

Poye's sacrifice placed Dodge on third, and Thompson on second. Parker was good for a timely two-bagger that scored Stephens and Thompson. Mahoney hit to third and was out first. Parker advancing to third. Carrow's single scored Parker, but Stephens, the next man up, sent a sky-scraper into the right out-field, retiring the side.

In the eighth McVey reached first on shortstop's error, going second on Swann's sacrifice hit. Dodge walked. And then came Thompson with the prettiest hit of the game, a nice three-bagger, scoring McVey and Dodge. Poye fanned, and Parker hit to Seaman and was retired at first, ending the game as far as Lowell was concerned. The score:

HERRERA IS SLOW

Willie Fitzgerald Got

the Decision

BOSTON, May 12.—Willie Fitzgerald of Philadelphia was awarded the decision over Aurelia Herrera, the Mexican, in their 12-round bout at the Army A. A. last night. The contest did not come up to the expectation of the fans, for the reason that the Mexican is "all in" as a boxer, and he realizes that fact, for he declared after the battle that he is through with the boxing game.

The long layoff he has made him slow, listless and a poor judge of distance. He showed few flashes of his old-time style, and only twice did he get over blows that bothered Fitzgerald to any extent.

That Fitzgerald did not win decisively before the limit of the bout was reached was a surprise. He put the Mexican to the floor twice in the eighth round and sent him staggering to his corner. The Mexican was still in a bad way when he came up for the ninth session, but by good blocking and stalling he gradually recuperated and lasted to the end.

Even though it was apparent after a few rounds that the Mexican had seen his best day, Fitzgerald showed a great deal of the Mexican's right hand, which in past years won him many hard-fought battles. That hand last night was not in good shape, but the Mexican took chances and let himself be hit often.

PEORIA, Ill., May 12.—Jack Morgan of Indianapolis knocked out the original "Kid" Farmer in the tenth round of a fight here last night. The first six rounds were slow but the last four were furious, though Morgan clearly outclassed his man.

Farmer did not move promptly and after half an hour work by three physicians he was removed to a hospital where he lies in a semi-conscious condition. Examination shows the man to be suffering from concussion of the brain with slight chances of recovery. Morgan and his seconds, the promoter and referee were arrested pending the outcome of the inquiry.

HOME RULE A CERTAINTY

THE GOVERNMENT BILL PROVIDING FOR UNIVERSITY EDUCATION IN IRELAND SUCH AS THE PEOPLE HAVE BEEN DEMANDING FOR YEARS HAS PASSED THE HOUSE OF COMMONS AND ITS PASSAGE BY THE PEERS IS ASSURED.

THIS IS BUT ONE OF THE MANY SUBSTANTIAL REFORMS GRANTED IRELAND THROUGH THE EFFORTS OF THE IRISH PARLIAMENTARY PARTY UNDER THE ABLE LEADERSHIP OF JOHN E. REDMOND.

THERE ARE STILL PEOPLE WHO IN FACE OF THE MOST CONVINCING PROOFS WILL ASSERT THAT IRELAND WILL NEVER GET HOME RULE, ALTHOUGH THE FACT IS THAT NO FUTURE EVENT IS MORE CERTAIN THAN THAT A MEASURE OF HOME RULE WILL BE GRANTED WITHIN THE NEXT FEW YEARS. THE IRISHMAN WHO WOULD HAVE SAID A DOZEN YEARS AGO THAT THE SYSTEM OF LANDLORDISM IN IRELAND WOULD SOON BE BROKEN UP AND DESTROYED, WOULD BE ACCOUNTED CRAZY. THAT SYSTEM, HOWEVER, HAS BEEN OVERTHROWN. ONLY A SMALL REMNANT OF IT HOLDS OUT AGAINST SELLING TO THE TENANTS UNDER THE ACT OF 1903 AND THAT ACT IS SOON TO BE AMENDED SO AS TO MAKE IT COMPULSORY ON ALL LANDLORDS TO SELL WHERE THE TENANTS OR TWO-THIRDS OF THEM ON ANY ESTATE WANT TO BUY.

THAT BEING A FACT, AND A RESULT OF PARLIAMENTARY AGITATION, WHO CAN SAY THAT THIS SAME FORCE CANNOT AS READILY HAVE A PARLIAMENT ESTABLISHED IN IRELAND TO LEGISLATE ON IRISH AFFAIRS?

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS HAS ENDORSED THE PRINCIPLE OF HOME RULE AS THE ONLY PRACTICAL SOLUTION OF THE IRISH QUESTION. THAT MOTION CARRIED BY A VOTE PRACTICALLY TWO TO ONE REFLECTS THE VIEWS OF THE BRITISH DEMOCRACY AND THERE IS NO REASON TO BELIEVE THAT IT IS LIKELY SOON TO CHANGE.

THE IRISH PARTY AND THE LABOR PARTY OF ENGLAND ARE CLOSELY UNITED AND THEY HELP ONE ANOTHER. BETWEEN BOTH THEY HAVE FREQUENTLY THE BALANCE OF POWER ON A DIVISION IN PARLIAMENT, SO THAT AN OPPORTUNITY IS LIABLE TO ARISE AT ANY TIME THAT WILL ENABLE THEM TO SECURE HOME RULE EVEN SOONER THAN EXPECTED BY THE IRISH PEOPLE. THE FORCES THAT CARRIED CATHOLIC EMANCIPATION, THAT SECURED THE DIS-ESTABLISHMENT OF THE ENGLISH CHURCH IN IRELAND, THE EXTENSION OF THE FRANCHISE SO THAT THE PEOPLE CAN EXPRESS THEIR PREFERENCE AT THE POLLS, THE TENANT RIGHT LAW, THE RECENT LAND LAW, AND LAST BUT NOT LEAST, THE UNIVERSITY EDUCATION BILL WILL SOON ASTONISH THE WORLD BY WINNING BY SIMILAR MEANS THE RESTORATION OF IRELAND'S RIGHT TO MAKE HER OWN LAWS. THE PROGRESS IN THAT DIRECTION IS STEADY AND UNMISTAKABLE. THE COUNTY COUNCILS LAW GRANTED AN INSTALMENT OF HOME RULE. THE OTHER IRISH COUNCIL BILL REJECTED BY THE IRISH PARTY WAS INTENDED AS ANOTHER INSTALMENT BUT IT WAS SO MEAGRE THE PARTY WAS JUSTIFIED IN REJECTING IT.

TWO YEARS BEFORE THEY GOT THE LAND ACT OF 1903 THEY REJECTED AN ABORTIVE LAND MEASURE BUT SOON AFTER GOT WHAT THEY WANTED. SO WILL IT BE WITH HOME RULE DESPITE THE WHINE OF THE CHRONIC CROAKERS WHO SAY "HOME RULE" WILL NEVER COME. ALL THAT IS NECESSARY TO MAKE IT AN ABSOLUTE CERTAINTY IS A CONTINUATION OF THE PRESENT AGITATION CONDUCTED BY THE IRISH PEOPLE THROUGH THE UNITED IRISH LEAGUE.

THE MATRIMONIAL ADVERTISEMENT

IN THE WHOLESALE MURDER AT THE GUNNESS FARM IN LA PORTE, IND., THERE IS AN ILLUSTRATION OF THE DANGERS OF THE MATRIMONIAL ADVERTISEMENT.

MRS. GUNNESS HAD ADVERTISED WIDELY FOR A HUSBAND, A MAN WHO HAD MONEY, AND IN HER REPLIES TO ALL WHO ANSWERED THE ADVERTISEMENTS SHE MADE A VERY FLATTERING OFFER OF HANDING OVER HER FARM AND HER MONEY TO THE MAN WHO SHOULD BE FORTUNATE ENOUGH TO MEET ALL REQUIREMENTS. SHE WASTED NO TIME IN SPOONEY CORRESPONDENCE. THE MAN WHO WISHED TO CONSIDER HER PROPOSITION MUST FIRST HAVE MONEY, AND SECOND HE MUST PAY HER A PERSONAL VISIT. IF HE HAD MONEY HE FOUND A PLACE IN HER PRIVATE GRAVEYARD.

THE MATRIMONIAL BUREAUS IN WHICH MEN ADVERTISE FOR WIVES HAVE USUALLY ADOPTED A DIFFERENT METHOD OF IMPOSING UPON THE CONFIDING APPLICANTS. IN THE FIRST PLACE THE LATTER HAD TO UNBOSOM THEMSELVES TO THE

BUREAU AND THEN PLANS WERE LAID TO BRING ABOUT THE DESIRED UNION.

AT A PHILADELPHIA BUREAU A MAN WAS EMPLOYED WHOSE BUSINESS IT WAS TO MARRY THE APPLICANTS AND DESERT THEM ON THE HONEYMOON OR AS SOON AS HE COULD SECURE THEIR MONEY. HE HAD DECEIVED A SCORE OR MORE IN THIS WAY. OTHER BUREAUS ADOPTED DIFFERENT METHODS TO ATTAIN THE SAME RESULT AND YET THERE STILL ARE WOMEN, AS THERE ARE MEN, THAT WILL TAKE SUCH DESPERATE CHANCES.

IT SEEMS THAT THERE WILL ALWAYS BE A FAIR PROPORTION OF FOOLS IN THIS WORLD. THE FACT IS PROVEN BY THE READY MARKET FOUND FOR GOLD BRICKS AND BY THE LOT OF PEOPLE WHO ANSWER MATRIMONIAL ADVERTISEMENTS, DO BUSINESS WITH SUCH BUREAUS AND COME TO GRIEF THROUGH THEIR OWN DELIBERATE ACTION.

SEEN AND HEARD

"The bee that gets the honey does not hang around the hive," neither does the man who gets the money hang around the house.

A well-known man about town whose waist measure is very large and who has to resort to a tailor in order to get a good fit came puffing through the street the other day and after being held up by a friend of his was asked what he was puffing for. "Well," said the man, "if you had to stop in a hot room for about fifteen minutes while a tailor took your measure for a suit."

"Where did you go to get the suit?" asked the friend.

"Oh I went to that place up the street where they made the suits for barman's circles," and then he wandered on his way.

Yesterday was a regular out and out summer day.

Patrolman Cook is thinking of launching into the restaurant business. He is a cook by name and in all probability is by nature.

Did you ever notice the cheerful smile that Deputy Welch wears on a Tuesday morning? He smiles because he thinks of the Tuesday mornings that he was grieved about the Wonders being defeated by the Conservatives. Now it is "Oh, what a difference in the morning."

One does not have to go to the south-east parts of the United States to revel in the glory of the sweet magnolia. We have them right here in Lowell, not many, a dozen perhaps, in all, and the most beautiful tree hereabout at this time is the magnolia whose large and fragrant flowers send perfume to the air in the corner of Bridge and Sixth streets. This sweet magnolia blooms on the lawn of the parochial residence of St. Michael's church and is the most admired tree in Centralville.

If you read this column yesterday you will probably be interested in the story of "Joe" Patten's and "Billy" Deane's experience on their flying trip to Stoddard, N. H.

We left Joe and Billy comfortably ensconced in the house that they had commercial dealings upon, and it was a bit of an oversight on our part to overlook the fact that they had been supplied with a key to the house upon leaving Peterboro or perhaps before.

They were well supplied with food and other things, meaning, of course, pipes, tobacco and all else necessary for their comfort. The wood was piled high in the kitchen and there were lounges and easy chairs galore.

The horse had been well cared for, Billy had banked him high on the sides with straw bedding and despite his many sore spots caused by the onslaught of halibuts during his wild run through the lanky darkness of the lonesome valley, he rested comfortably.

After releasing their adventures of a few hours before Joe and Billy pulled their lounges up close to the big fireplace. The storm had subsided and Billy, a little night weary as to further prostrations, remarked, very casually, that it looked as if the storm was about to clear away.

"Make the times weeping," asked Joe, Billy detected the true note of sarcasm in the question and just for that he wouldn't answer.

Joe was fast asleep when Billy shook the last bit of ashes from his Canadian pipe and only a few more minutes had been traced by Father Time when Billy, too, was in the land of nod.

He was the first to wake in the morning and looking out through the open window he discovered that more than five inches of snow had fallen during the night and his heart was sad within him. He aroused Joe and told him to take a peek at the outside world.

"What a time!" exclaimed Joe, "No, but it would be a good morning to track them," said Billy. When Joe looked out he said something and Billy has asked as a special favor that it be not published.

Breakfast was prepared in almost absolute silence and with heavy hearts. The horse had been fed and groomed and only a few more minutes had been traced by Father Time when Billy, too, was in the land of nod.

Breakfast was prepared in almost absolute silence and with heavy hearts. The horse had been fed and groomed and only a few more minutes had been traced by Father Time when Billy, too, was in the land of nod.

He was the first to wake in the morning and looking out through the open window he discovered that more than five inches of snow had fallen during the night and his heart was sad within him. He aroused Joe and told him to take a peek at the outside world.

SCORES PRESIDENT

Senator Rayner Speaks in Defense of Colonel Stewart

WASHINGTON, May 13.—Senator Rayner in speaking yesterday in the senate on his resolution directing the appointment of a court of inquiry to investigate charges against Col. William F. Stewart of the coast artillery, now stationed at Fort Grant, Ariz., by order of the president, declared he had no political purpose in his criticism of what the president had done in the case of Col. Stewart. "The president has made a mistake," he said.

He reviewed the career of Col. Stewart and pictured the loneliness of Fort Grant which he said was his "place of punishment."

Saying a communication had been sent to Col. Stewart informing him that improvements would be made in the sanitary conditions of Fort Grant if he desired, Mr. Rayner added:

"The same sort of communication passed to Dreyfus, I think."

"The charges against Col. Stewart," said Mr. Rayner, "are frivolous and petty and do not in the slightest degree reflect on his character as a man, his honor as a citizen or his courage as an officer. One of them is that he had 'temperamental infirmities.'"

"The president has come to the conclusion that Col. Stewart is a man who wants to have his own way," said Mr. Rayner, amid general laughter. Col. Stewart, he said, had his own ideas about his duty and did not propose to be interfered with in the performance of his duties.

"This is the charge," declared Mr. Rayner, "not that Col. Stewart makes against the president but that the president makes against Stewart."

"He has not," continued Mr. Rayner with sarcasm, "called forth frequent peals of laughter, 'the temperament of the president, that fine system of adjustment that always suggests restraint, calmness and moderation. He thinks Col. Stewart should yield as he, the president, has done on similar occasions. It is known that the president never indulges in vehement expressions either oral or in written communications, that he is free from many of the faults of the race and that he has given us the most serene and placid presidential speech we have ever been pleased with."

Mr. Rayner read his letter to the president stating his purpose to introduce in the senate a resolution mandating an inquiry into the Stewart case and then read the president's reply, interpolating his own comments on the president's words as he went along.

"At present I do not see how a court of inquiry could be of use," the president stated in his letter. "As I do not see how any court could express an opinion which I could pay more heed to than the judgment of Wade, Grant, Murray, Dix and Davis, on whose judgment I have acted."

OFFICERS PROMOTED.

Mr. Rayner paused in the reading to declare that with a single exception these officers named by the president had been promoted over the head of Col. Stewart to the positions they now occupy.

Continuing, he read the president's letter, saying that the charges against Col. Stewart already had been established and he did not see what more of a court of inquiry could do. "This," exclaimed Mr. Rayner, "is the president's interpretation of his constitutional prerogatives. He has never been paralleled in the military records of America in the history of the production of a case parallel to this."

The president's letter to Mr. Rayner stated that he would give further consideration to the senator's demand for the court of inquiry. The president added that there was nothing to find out, as nothing additional could more clearly establish the facts, and said this was one of the many cases of "officers demanding courts of inquiry, to grant which would destroy the discipline of the army. The president added that he did not understand Mr. Rayner's allusion to a joint resolution of congress.

Mr. Rayner said the authorities were all against the president having the slightest right to punish an officer without a court. He declared that the president was determined to keep Col. Stewart in exile for three years, when he would be retired on account of age, and he added:

"The president says to him: 'Stay there or surrender and retire.' No such edict was ever contemplated in the Imperial armies of Central Europe." He declared that abroad army officers lose their identity but in the United States the conditions guarantee every man's life, liberty and properly unless taken from him by due process of law.

"Now, what is a court of inquiry?" asked the senator. In answering his own question he said:

"I know all about them. I had four months' experience with one," referring to the Schley court, in which he was counsel for Schley. "I am sorry to say it was packed, but it was a court."

In an aside, the senator said:

"And why is he treated in this manner? Because he got into a quarrel with a plumber. Quarrel with a plumber indeed—how many quarrels do you suppose the president has had with plumbers and everybody else? Suppose the president should be sent to a place like that forever for quarreling, why, this man had initiated the president and he is being punished for it. I am sure he had some advice on the subject. The attorney-general may have whispered into the president's ear that he had no right to inflict punishment upon this officer; hardly that thought; for the attorney-general and all the rest of his advisors seem to say to the president just what he wants them to say."

At this juncture Sen. Foraker turned to Sen. Rayner a letter which Col. Stewart had written to the war department from Fort Grant, asking for permission to come to Washington and appear in his own defense against the hardships inflicted upon him. Mr. Foraker asked Mr. Rayner if he would be willing to read the letter.

"If it is in my favor I will read it," replied Mr. Rayner.

BAILEY EXPLAINS.

Mr. Bailey suggested to Mr. Rayner that he need have no hesitancy in reading anything on that subject coming from the senator from Ohio. Mr. Rayner failed to grasp the fact that Mr. Bailey referred to the relationship between Mr. Foraker and President Roosevelt and Mr. Bailey was compelled to explain, saying:

"The senator from Maryland was so absorbed in this subject that he did not perceive that I had reference only to the well-known cordial relations which exist between the president of the United States and the senator from Ohio."

In laugh which greeted this sally, Mr. Rayner to the knowledge that the subject was being treated with some levity, which he disapproved. He then read Colonel Stewart's letter from Fort Grant, in which the officer declared that for four months he had had no companionship, except that of a caretaker and a teamster, the former an invalid; that the building in which he lived was not heated properly; that snow and sleet found their way through cracks, and that there were no sanitary conveniences.

Taking up the legal questions involved Mr. Rayner said:

"The president says he is above the law in this matter. I say that he is mistaken and that he is subject to every law and regulation congress can pass." He proceeded to quote a large number of authorities in support of this conclusion, drawing from them the inference that Col. Stewart is entitled to a trial even though in the army.

Mr. Rayner's remarks were applauded by the galleries.

On the conclusion of the president's letter, Mr. Rayner agreed to call his resolution up today for action by the senate. Mr. Warren indicating that the committee on military affairs.

In order that the president's letter to Sen. Rayner might be regarded as before the senate, it was read after the senator had finished his speech. It covers nine typewritten pages and for the most part is a review of Col. Stewart's quarrels with officers under him and with citizens in the neighborhood of the post where he had been assigned. His conduct is condemned by the "officers demanding courts of inquiry, to grant which would destroy the discipline of the army. The president added that he did not understand Mr. Rayner's allusion to a joint resolution of congress."

Mr. Rayner said the authorities were all against the president having the slightest right to punish an officer without a court. He declared that the president was determined to keep Col. Stewart in exile for three years, when he would be retired on account of age, and he added:

A BUSY MEETING AMES' PETITION

The Committee Votes "Leave to Withdraw"

At Y.M.C.I. Rooms Last Evening

PRES. KELLEY MAKES A REPORT

Sacred Heart Holy Name Society

The warm weather did not interfere in the least with the attendance at the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. I., last evening, when President Kelley presided over a busy session. Two new members were admitted and four applications were received.

President Kelley reported as a delegate to the last convention of the Middlesex county branch of the American Federation of Catholic societies, and gave an interesting account of the meeting. He also reported that the next quarterly convention would be held in the institute hall on July 12.

The entertainment committee reported that they had been requested to furnish St. Peter's parish reception with an entertainment on the evening of May 25. It was voted to give the committee full power to put on an entertainment.

Remarks were made by Rev. Fr. Reynolds, O. M. I. and Messrs. Thomas, Terrence Farley, Al. Cooney, John King and Thomas Finnelly.

A committee of three was appointed to select a team to enter the field contests to be held on Memorial day, under the auspices of the Lowell Athletic association, on the South common. The committee was appointed for a term of one year to represent the institute at the Middlesex county convention.

SACRED HEART SOCIETY OF THE HOLY NAME

The Holy Name society of the Sacred Heart church held its regular monthly meeting last evening.

Services in the church were first attended, after which all adjourned to the school hall and transacted routine business. President James J. Ward was in the chair. The report of the last meeting was read by Secretary Thomas Sheehan and was accepted. A committee of five was appointed to have charge of the smoke talk which will be held at the next monthly meeting night. Reports were read and accepted from the baseball, the breakfast and other committees. A list of about fifty candidates for admission was read and accepted.

Rev. John O'Brien, spiritual director of the society, gave a very eloquent address on the Blessed Virgin and recited the office of the society.

After the society meeting some of the baseball committee held a special meeting and discussed the prospect of the newly formed Catholic league.

GAMBETTA'S BODY

May Yet be Removed to Pantheon

HIS MYSTERIOUS LOVE AFFAIR

With Leonille Has Been Made Public

PARIS, May 13.—The question of removing the body of Gambetta to the Pantheon is again being agitated. The memory of the man who was the soul of the French defense in the war with Germany is very dear to the French people and annual pilgrimages are made to the little house in Ville d'Averay where he died.

Renewed interest in Gambetta has recently been revived by the publication of the story of his mysterious love affair with Leonille. Throughout his life the strange figure of this woman was always in the background but her identity was first revealed by a volume written by Gambetta's confidante, where for months she was absent from Gambetta's side.

His first effort to form her acquaintance was vain. At his first approach she fled and he did not see her again for four years. At last they met and fell in love with each other. He proposed marriage but she refused, telling him that there was a stain upon her name and under the circumstances she felt that an alliance might injure her with her career. She, however, consented to become his mistress and although Gambetta always regarded her as his wife they were never legally married.

But a marriage was about to occur when he sustained the fatal accident.

LEGAL NOTICES

To the Honorable the Justices of the Superior Court within and for the County of Middlesex:

Respectfully I state and represents Mary T. Clark, of Cambridge, in said County, that she was lawfully married to John J. Clark, now of Hartford, State of Connecticut, at Haverhill, in our County of Hampshire, on the 10th day of August, A. D. 1905, and thereafter towards your honor and the said John J. Clark lived together as husband and wife in this Commonwealth, to wit, at Springfield, in our County of Hampshire; that your honor has always been faithful to his marriage vows and obligations, but the said John J. Clark, being wholly regardless of the same, at Springfield, on or about the 15th day of January, A. D. 1905, utterly deserted your honor and said wife, and thereafter has continued for more than three consecutive years next prior to the filing of this libel.

Wherefore your honor prays that a divorce from the bonds of matrimony may be decreed between your honor and the said John J. Clark.

Dated this thirteenth day of April, A. D. 1936.

MARY T. CLARK.
